ST. NICHOLAS HOTEL,

WHEN completed, six years ago, the ST. VV NICHOLAS was universally pronounced the most magnificent, convenient, and thoroughly organized establishment of the kind on this continent. What it was then, it remains to-daywithout a rival in size, in sumptuousness, and in the general elements of comfort and enjoyment. The Hotel has accommodations for 1,600 guests, including 100 complete suites of apartments for families. Six hundred persons can be comfortably seated at the tables of its three public dining rooms, and nothing that modern art has devised for the convenience and social gratification of the PROVISION FOR PAYMENT OF LOSSES IN travelling public, has been omitted in its plan, or s neglected in its practical details. The early reputation of the house at home and abroad, derived from its magnitude, its superb appointments, and its home-like comforts and luxuries, has been enhanced every year by the unwearied exertions

CAPITAL OVER 350,000 DOLLARS, AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING. The Charter of this Company offers more favorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any Company chartered in the State, by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in eash, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves one-eighta of the amount he would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the insured saves nearly one-half of the amount charged by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the combination of the

CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE. This Company commenced issuing Policies against loss or damage by fire, on the 13th day of March, 1854, since which time over seven thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become members of the Company, and over seventy thousand dollars have been paid for losses. Having increased our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering prospeets of future usefulness. The Directors hope and believe, that, by prudence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for this Company a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. preached by a contemporary print :-"Wife and mother, are you tired and out of patience with your husband's and your He caught the first accents that fell from thy children's demands upon your time and attention? Are you tempted to speak out angry feelings to that faithful, but, perhaps, sometimes heedless exacting His footsteps are feeble-once fearless and at those sweet and beautiful ones ?-Do you groan and say, 'What a fool I house, where I lived at ease and in quiet?' Are you, by reason of the care and weariness of body which wife-hood and neighborhood must bring, forgetful Remember thy mother; for thee will she of, and unminded for their comforts and their joys! O! wife and mother, what if a stroke should smite your husband, and lay him low? What if your children should be snatched from your arms and from your bosom? What if there were no true, strong heart for you to lean upon! What if there were no soft little innocents to nestle in your arms, and to love you or receive your love ! How would it be with you then ?-Be patient and kind, dear wife; be unwearying and long-suffering, dear mother; for you know not how long you may tarry with them. Let there be nothing for you to remember which will wring your heart with remorse if they leave you alone; let there be nothing for them to remember but sweetness and love unutterable, if you are called to leave them by the way. Be patient, be pitiful, be tender of them all, for death will step sooner or later between them and you .-And O! what would you do if you should be doomed to sit solitary and forsaken through years and years? Be happy as you are, even with all your trials; for, believe it, thou wife of a loving and true husband, there is no lot in life so blessed as thine own."

EDUCATE YOUR DAUGHTERS .- Missionaries first fell into the mistake of teaching the boys only. They became intelligent men, but married uneducated and uncivilized wives. The result was, that ly educate one class of the children, they choose the girls, for when they become mothers, they educate their sons. This is the true principle of education.

If you wish your family to grow up interesting and instructed, you must have the as it may seem, from that day her eyesight mother competent for her position. This neglect has, no doubt, been the cause of unhappy marriages, and the source of the ruin of hundreds of children .. A Scene in the House of Lords .- What a pageant of splendor and of grandeur was here presented! The floor of the House was packed with wives, daughters, and sisters of the peers in full dress, leaving only a narrow space in the centre, which was occupied by peers and bishops in their scarlet robes .-The entire gallery which surrounds the ilouse was filled with a row of elegantly-dressed ladies, only broken by a line of reporters; the benches, one rising above the other, were filled with ladies. Presently the trumpets sound, the signal that the Queen is approaching. She leaves the palace in her magnificent State earriage, drawn by eight cream-colored horses, attended by her Minister and household officers in carriages little less sumptuous than her own, escorted by the Life Guards, all mounted on noble black horses, the whole cortege forming a magnificent spectacle. More precious than wealth or renown. SIGHT RESTORED .- A physiological wonder occurred a short time since in New York city. A young and exceedingly interesting girl residing on Eighth street, whose amiable disposition, elegant manners, and placid beauty of the soul, had endeared her to all who knew her, a year or two ago, was compelled to discontinue her studies and leave school, in consequence of a partial loss of eyesight that threatened to become total. She was entirely unable to read. A number of most skillful physicians were employed by the family, and she was taken to some of the most noted occulists; but all their learning, the children were all like the mother .- dexterity and management proved unavail-Soon the father lost his interest in both ing. Her eyes looked healthy; were beautiwife and children. Now, if they can on- fully pensive in their expression, and seem deep as her soul was pure, but they were nevertheless to her almost wholly useless .--Notwithstanding this rather melancholy physical defect, a young man who had long been devoted to her offered her his hand in marriage. REBUILDING OF THE TUILERIES .- The present Emperor of the French has so vastly improved the vicinity of the Louvre, at Paris. that the old Palace of the Tuileries, near by, so long the residence of French monarchs, has of late years worn the aspect of a shabbygenteel poor relation among his kinsmen of wealth and magnificence. But the old Palace is to be rejuvenated. M. Gaitlardet, in a letter to the Courrier des Etats Unis, writes: "The Court will not return to the Tuileries this winter, owing to the necessity of partially rebuilding that edifice, to make the old Palace more in harmony with the new Louvre. During this time the Emperor and Empress will reside at the Elysee, which has been isolated and enlarged. In consequence of the expense of this work exceeding the resources of the civil list, a project has been presented to the Corps Legislatif for a law to place the Imperial residences under the charge of the State, and not under that of the
